

STREETS ARE BLOCKADED

Hazelrigg's Drawing Saturday Afternoon Attracts Immense Throng to City.

The store, sidewalk and street in front of Hazelrigg & Son's Saturday afternoon was crowded to capacity by customers who held chances on the thirteen prizes that were given away by this popular concern. Several months ago the company announced that on July 3rd they would give away several prizes to customers and the immense crowd present was evidence conclusive as to merit of the advertising proposition.

A handsome drugget was the first prize and was drawn by Mrs. Minot Davis, the other prizes were drawn by the following: Mrs. Sam Turley; Miss Nannie Estill; Mrs. Dan Prewitt; Mrs. R. F. Moore; Mrs. Fisher Mark; Mrs. W. H. Tipton; Miss Minnie Graves; Miss Mary L. Gatewood; Mrs. Mary Wood Rice; Mrs. C. W. Howe; Mrs. Minot Davis.

The newspaper advertising of this drawing was done exclusively in the Advocate and Mr. Hazelrigg says he is more than pleased with the results obtained.

LARGE CROWDS IN ATTENDANCE

Chautauqua Opened Here Friday and Large and Enthusiastic Crowds Are Attending.

The Redpath Chautauqua opened its third season in this city last Friday afternoon. Large and enthusiastic crowds are attending each performance and everyone is highly elated over the superb program which is being rendered.

Each entertainment is proving highly entertaining as well as quite instructive. The lectures are a source of great delight and the music is of a high order.

The annual appearance of the Redpath Chautauqua in this city is the greatest event of each year in Mt. Sterling and the immense crowds which attend is proof conclusive of the merit of its splendid program.

The morning, afternoon and evening entertainments are all proving a source of great pleasure and if you miss a single session you are certain to miss something you wanted to see or hear.

The Superintendent, Mr. Roy L. Smith, is proving quite popular here. He is efficient and courteous and has made many friends while in this city.

The week's program closes here Friday evening with a song recital by the world's most noted Prima Donna, Miss Alice Nielsen.

We feel that Mt. Sterling is truly fortunate in having a series of such high class entertainments and our people are availing themselves of the opportunity to hear these speakers, lecturers and singers of national reputation, and we hope that the Chautauqua is destined to be an annual event in this city.

SPLENDID DISPLAY

Chenault & Orear, the hardware men have on display in one of their large show windows as fine a collection of old pistols, guns and swords as could be found anywhere. They belong to Dr. W. R. Thompson, who has been many years in getting up the collection. In addition to the old time pistols, etc., they are also showing the latest in firearms. It is a most interesting display.

WINCHESTER ORDERS ALL STREETS PAVED

An ordinance providing for the pavement of practically every prominent street in Winchester was passed at the regular meeting of the City Council last week, the time for the paving to be determined by the council.

YOUNG LIFE IS ENDED

Former Mt. Sterling Girl Dies at Hospital in Texas After Long Illness.

Relatives and friends were grieved to learn that Mrs. Ernest Steele (nee Miss Charlotte Samuels) had died at a hospital in Houston, Tex., Thursday after an illness of four months duration.

She is survived by her husband and three little children, her mother, Mrs. J. H. E. Jepherson, of Alvin, two brothers, Dudley, of Galveston, and J. Stockwell Samuels, of this city, besides a large number of relatives in this section.

She had been a resident of Texas for about eight years, and was twenty-four years of age.

Born and reared in this city she was known to everyone, and a brighter, sweeter girl it has never been our pleasure to know. Of a happy, jolly disposition, her smiling face, joyous laugh and kindly greeting made her extremely popular with everyone with whom she came in contact.

She was a musician of rare ability and, had she so desired, could have made a national reputation on the concert stage.

Life will never be quite the same to those who knew her, while those who were nearest to her will long for her with unutterable longings—long for a mother's counsel and advice, and a wife's gentle and loving sympathy.

Funeral services were conducted at her home in Alvin, Tex., Saturday with burial in that city.

To the bereaved family we tender our deepest sympathy in their hour of sorrow.

TABB TO OPEN SATURDAY

After having been closed for five days to make improvements, the Tabb Opera House will open its doors Saturday night. The management has just installed a gold fibre curtain 15x20 feet and is said to be the largest in the State. They have also installed a converter which takes the quiver out of the pictures and also made their machines motor driven which will add to the pictures. A four piece orchestra will be one of the features of this house. Manager Wilkerson has closed contracts with the following film companies: Universal, Mutual Master Pictures, Metro, Pathe, V. L. S. & E. and Balboa, and advises us that all service will be "first run" pictures. The Tabb is one of the prettiest show houses in the State.

BOOTLEGGER IS FINED

Pleads Guilty and is Given the Limit By Police Judge in Court Tuesday.

Jess Redd, colored, a paroled convict, was arrested Saturday charged with bootlegging and tried in the Police Court here Tuesday morning and entered a plea of guilty. Judge Ben. R. Turner immediately entered a fine of $100 and forty days in jail, which is the limit for the offense.

This is the first bootlegger caught here since the local option law went into effect and the authorities are determined to enforce the law.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

The large auto truck which runs between this city and Carlisle Monday night ran into the carriage of Mr. T. J. Bigstaff, which was standing on Maysville street near the public schools waiting for Mr. and Mrs. Bigstaff, who were attending the Chautauqua. The horses became frightened and, throwing the driver out, ran into the wire fence of Mr. John Winn, causing considerable damage to the fence, and continuing up the street, completely demolished the vehicle when they ran into the stone wall in front of the residence of Judge R. H. Winn. The driver of the team reports that the automobile, after running into him, did not stop to offer any assistance or to see the extent of the damage he had wrought.

NEED BRIDGE BADLY

Several people from here motored to Winchester Sunday and coming back were delayed quite a long time on the road as the water at Goose creek where it crosses the pike was too high for the machines to go through. This place has needed a bridge for years and we have always been at a loss to understand why a progressive county like Clark has not put in one long ago.

On automobile from this city was filled with traveling men who wanted to catch a train.

The body of Mr. Dan D. Hurst, of Jackson, who died there Monday was brought to this city yesterday morning for interment. Mr. Hurst was seventy-seven years of age and was a veteran of the Civil War. He was well known throughout eastern Kentucky and was always a leading figure in the Republican conventions. He made his home in this city until fifteen years ago when he moved to Jackson, but for the past four years has been living at Hazel Green. He was a whole-souled, good natured old gentleman and many friends will learn with sorrow of his death.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE SNAGTOWN TORCHLIGHT

Prof. C. A. Parker made a flying trip to Plunkville last week where he made a trade for a globe map of the world. He will use this in his argument with the trustees of the Panther Creek school that the world is round. In the past he has been teaching the flat system, using the flat maps of the blueback geography. The globe secured by the teacher is rather old, having been used for several years at Peavine Ridge and will have to be remodeled here and there, the world having underwent considerable improvement since then.

John Dashner will teach you the modern dances over at his blacksmith shop when he is not shoeing horses at $5 for 6 lessons.

The Rattlesnake Ford congregation surprised their pastor yesterday by presenting him with a nice frying-size chicken.

Mrs. Emma Allen has written a lengthy piece of poetry for use in the columns of the Torchlight. The name of the poem is, "I Am Longing for a Man to Win My Heart which is Yet Untouched and Fancy Free." It will not be run as a want ad.

The Snagtown Fiddling Band, with Linwood Roberts as Professor, serenaded the Old Miser on Coon creek Thursday night. When he heard them coming he locked the doors and shut his eyes, pretending to be asleep, so that he would not have to pass out a jug to the band.

H. F. Denton came within twenty-five cents of buying a good buggy this week.

The floor of the Snagtown post-office sags so much on one side the postmaster has had to build up the soles on one side of his shoes.

Howard Shelton is back from Lone Fork, where he has been following a squirrel around a tree.

John Dashner was called to Peavine Ridge this morning on a pleasure trip. He carried with him a load of wagon wheels and an outlay of blacksmith tools, in order that he would not be delayed if he had a breakdown.

Art Shives and Jack Goodine swapped horses at the forks of the road Thursday after a two-hours deliberation and general inspection, together with a mass of doubtful statements. They traded even, each giving five dollars to boot.

Dr. Bush has set his squirrel rifle on a stump in the Coon creek woods, and is having success in his new scheme of killing game. Bait is scattered in front of the gun. One end of a string is tied to the bait and the other to the trigger, and when the bird or animal swallows the bait the trigger is pulled and the victim kills itself.

The deputy constable Doc Walz has added a spy-glass attachment to his lantern, and contemplates doing some very fine detective work the coming fall and winter.

SAVE THE PENNIES

It pays to save the pennies. James Hebron is a New York millionaire. For thirty years he was doorman at Delmonico's, and in that length of time the $1 a day doorman accumulated a fortune of $1,000,000. College bred, he was able to converse intelligently with many of the prominent men who dined regularly at the place. He had gray matter as well as a college education. All of his tips were not of the cash kind.

HE GOT THE GOODS.

But Potter Palmer Handed a Severe Jolt to A. T. Stewart.

At the time of the war between the north and the south Potter Palmer was in the dry goods business in Chicago, and Levi Z. Leiter and Marshall Field were working for him. Palmer wasn't so well known, but he had a good reputation in the trade, and he didn't have to introduce himself when he called on old A. T. Stewart to buy some goods. After some dickering they agreed upon the price, and Palmer said that he would take about $100,000 worth. It was a little larger bill than Stewart exactly cared to sell young Palmer on credit, but he concluded to make the deal and told him to come in the next morning and arrange some final details.

That night some big war news came, and it didn't require any declaration by the government to inform every dry goods man in the country that the price of goods would take a big spurt up. Stewart recognized it is soon as he had the news, and he immediately thought of Palmer. He also thought of the big bill of goods Palmer had bought of him.

It didn't particularly tickle Stewart, that thought didn't. But it required only a few scratches of his red head to fix things to his satisfaction. He would simply tell Palmer that he was sorry, but that he didn't feel that he could sell such a big bill on credit, and as he knew that Palmer couldn't raise the cash immediately, why, that would end it, and the sale would be off.

Well, young Palmer called early, and Stewart greeted him in his very abruptest manner, telling him how sorry he was, etc., but really he didn't think it wise business to extend credit for such an amount.

"Just how much does the bill come to?" said young Palmer, seemingly sorrowful-like.

"Just $110,000," Stewart replied, and then he straightway gulped for breath as young Palmer drew an immense pocketbook from his inside vest pocket and, opening it, counted out 110 thousand dollar bills and, laying them quietly on Stewart's desk, said: "If you will kindly count them and give me a receipt I'll be obliged, as I must take the next train home. Ship the goods as soon as you can, and when you're out our way drop in. Always glad to see our friends."

A Little Mixed.

Uncle Bobby Caldwell, a unique character who represented a western Tennessee county in the state legislature some fifteen years ago, had a joint debate with an opponent who was contesting the nomination with him. Uncle Bobby charged his opponent with responsibility for certain legislative acts which were not popular with the people of the county. He said: "Who passed the infamous dog law? Who is responsible for that outrageous no fence law that requires a man to buy a rope and keep his cow tied to the front porch? As Shakespeare said unto David," pointing to his opponent, "Thou art the man!"

This Happened in Boston.

"Cynthia, will you recite 'Mary Had a Little Lamb' for us?" asked the kind hearted old gentleman.

"I do not care to, much as I should like to oblige you," replied the little girl with the horn rimmed eyeglasses. "As a matter of fact, the poem has little, if any, literary value and in addition is not true to life as it exists today. Under the constriction in trade, due to the meat trust, Mary could not own an entire lamb. She might have had a chop, but beyond that the poet's imagination must be blamed."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Breaking In.

"How is the new girl going to do?" asked Mr. Ferguson.

"She hasn't had much experience," said his wife, "but I think she will be all right when she gets broken in."

There came a loud sound of falling crockery from the kitchen.

"She seems to be making a good start, anyhow," observed Mr. Ferguson encouragingly.—Exchange.

Holland Customs.

Holland has some peculiar customs. In many towns bulletins are affixed to the doors of houses in which persons are sick in order that their friends may be apprised of the state of their health without knocking or ringing, and in Haarlem the birth of a child is announced by means of a small placard adorned with red silk and lace.

Chopping Him Off.

"Hello, Grimshaw! Don't you remember your old sidekick, Smart-ellick?"

"Your manner is familiar," replied Grimshaw coldly, "but I am glad to say that I have forgotten both your face and name."—Judge.

LAST LIVING MOTHER OF ONE OF "MORGAN'S MEN"

Mrs. Elizabeth Keller Smith, mother of the late Green R. Keller, editor of the Carlisle Mercury, is the only woman now living in Kentucky who had a son in Gen. John H. Morgan's command.

Mrs. Smith, who now lives in Cynthiana, is in her eighty-ninth year, and until recently, when she had a severe fall, from the effects of which she is still housed up, has been in the best of health.

"Aunt Liz" Smith, as she is still affectionately known, is an aunt of Messrs. William and Frank Remington, of this city, being a sister of their father, Mr. B. F. Remington, who died here a few years ago. —Paris News.

Another Living Mother of One of "Morgan's Men."

The Bourbon News, of Paris, published a story a few days ago in which it stated that the only living mother of one of "Morgan's Men," in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, mother of the late Green Keller, editor of the Carlisle Mercury, resided in Cynthiana. Since the story was copied in the Sun another living mother of one of the gallant raiders that followed the intrepid leader has loomed up. She is Mrs. Julia Shearer, of Red House, Madison county.

Mrs. Shearer, who is at the advanced age of ninety-one years, is the mother of Mr. J. W. Shearer, of this city, who was one of Morgan's followers, being a member of Company E, 2nd Kentucky Mounted Rifles, and was with the command of Morgan at Greenville, Tenn., when the remnant of his small army was cut to pieces and the gallant leader slain by Union soldiers after he had offered to surrender.

At her advanced age Mrs. Shearer is hale and hearty and is at present on a visit to her son in this city. Her mental faculties are extremely good and she can recount many stirring incidents of the dark days of 61-65. —Winchester Sun.

Still Another One Living.

Another living mother of the gallant raiders that followed the intrepid leader has loomed up. She is Mrs. J. M. Jordan, of Mt. Sterling, better known as "Gran." Mr. Jordan was in service during the Civil war two years. He was captured at Cynthiana and from there was taken to Johnson Island near Sandusky, O., where he was kept a prisoner until after the war. Mrs. Jordan is in her 95th year and has good health at that advanced age.

BUSINESS GOOD

Brookton is a noted Massachusetts shoe town. For the first time in its history the factories are using two shifts, working day and night. An enormous order for shoes for the Italian army started the boom. A shoe company at Binghamton received an order for a half-million pairs of war shoes from the Rumanian government, and night and day shifts are necessary to fill the order in rapid time. Uncle Sam is neutral and is getting the business.

PULL THE STRING

The purse string in this community is entirely too tight.

Give it a pull.

There is just as much money around here as there ever was, but it is hidden away and not in circulation.

And why?

Simply because some one yelled hard times, and people immediately jumped to the conclusion that we had hard times, and that the only thing to do was to bury their money, get it out of sight, anywhere on earth except in circulation.

It was simply an inflated case of flimflam and monkeydoodle.

There is no occasion for hard times, we have none, and it is about time to quit thinking we have and come down to earth and get back to our occupation of doing business at the old stand.

We have had years of big crops, another whale is in sight, farmers are all prosperous and millions in gold are pouring in from Europe.

Hard times? Hard piffle!

As far as supply and demand are concerned conditions are normal—even above normal.

And this whole hue and cry is merely the result of people who have money withdrawing it from circulation and hoarding it away.

And it's a bad thing to do.

It's not patriotic, it's not businesslike, it's not even horse sense.

It's everything that it should not be and nothing that it should be.

It's converting a shadow into an elephant where even the shadow does not exist.

Let's pull the string and let the money flow, and keep it flowing, and moving, and changing, and earning, and creating, and multiplying and adding to the community riches.

Money is good only for what it will bring, and wealth hoarded away brings nothing.

Let's turn it loose, and start it to earning again, and put this town on the boom.

Get out the old purse, open it up, empty it out, do something to boost the community and the community will boost you.

There are opportunities all around us for investment and earning money, but more money is never made by gold that is hidden away.

Hard times are but a name, and even the name is worn down to a frazzle.

Now let's bury the frazzle and get down to business.

Let's turn loose the gold and let it work.

Opportunity is knocking at our door, but it will not wait while we sleep.

CAN'T FOOL FARMERS

The liquor press and candidates are making a great to-do against McChesney, warning the farmers that if they vote for him they will raise their taxes. Not a word of this is so. McChesney stands in this race for submitting the question of State-wide prohibition to a vote of the people. If they are against it when it comes to a vote, let them beat it, but the people are certainly entitled to a vote on it. They vote on stock laws, road laws, and suffrage laws, why not on this question, which is the most important affecting the American home today? Incidentally, in regard to the tax question, Kansas, which has State-wide prohibition has a lower State tax rate than Kentucky with all of her so-called revenue producing saloons and liquor manufacturing factories.—Stanford Interior Journal.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling. Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from Bassett Drug Co., and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

PINS AND DOLLARS

Some people never fail to bend their backs to pick up a pin, and yet let the dollars slip right through their fingers without even a blink. They grasp at the shadow while the substance marches by. If the point of a pin is facing you it is supposed to be good luck to pick it up.

But there are greater values and better opportunities for luck than in stooping your shoulders in a futile search for pins.

READ THE ADS IN THIS PAPER if you want to find luck in big chunks and pick up dollars instead of pins.

Our advertising columns are full of splendid opportunities every week, and they are to be had simply for the reading and the taking.

Forget the pins and go after bigger game. Read the ads and pick up the dollars.

A subscriber writes that presidents, preachers and editors are not infallible. Of course not. Great men never are, but they are about the only ones who ever admit it.

"Cured"

Mrs. Jay McGee, of Stephenville, Texas, writes: "For nine (9) years, I suffered with womanly trouble. I had terrible headaches, and pains in my back, etc. It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so. At last, I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and it helped me right away. The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me."

TAKE

Cardui

The Woman's Tonic

Cardui helps women in time of greatest need, because it contains ingredients which act specifically, yet gently, on the weakened womanly organs. So, if you feel discouraged, blue, out-of-sorts, unable to do your household work, on account of your condition, stop worrying and give Cardui a trial. It has helped thousands of women,—why not you? Try Cardui. E-71

MADE TO ORDER NEWS

Last week there appeared in many Kentucky newspapers an article entitled "Kentucky Political News" and we are told similar articles will appear weekly until the primary. These articles are paid advertisements. It is considered perfectly legitimate for any newspaper to accept any paid advertisement it may desire and we do not mean to be understood as criticizing them for so doing. That is their own business.

The sole purpose of these articles is to boost Mr. Morrow and Mr. Stanley and discredit Mr. McChesney and at a financial loss to ourselves, we declined to accept them, first, because they are not signed, thus concealing the fact that the whiskey and beer trust is paying the bills and second, because we do not believe them to be true and do not want to be a party to such a fraud upon the public.

The August primary is just one month off and we shall be very glad indeed when it is over. In fact, in our judgment, the man who will devise some plan whereby Kentucky will be made to have more business and less politics, will render a great service to his State.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors who were so kind to us during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father.

OBSERVE THE ROAD LAWS

We have noticed that many automobile drivers are giving little attention to the traffic laws and are not only running their cars above the speed limit but are failing to sound their horns when turning street corners or passing intersections. A gentleman who lives on the Maysville pike told us a few days ago that on several occasions he had narrowly missed being run over by machines running at high speed turning curves in the road without sounding their horns. On another occasion he had started to turn in his gate when a large machine passed him forcing him to pull his horse up sharply to keep from being struck and the machine had failed to give warning. Automobiles are not always in fault when accidents happen on the road, although as a rule, they are always blamed for the accidents, but the machine owners could lessen to a marked degree the general antipathy against automobiles if they would observe the rules of the road a little better. It will save a lot of trouble and possibly a life.

The game of baseball scheduled to take place here Sunday between the Federals and a team from Richmond was declared off owing to the failure of the Richmond boys to arrive, which was caused by an automobile breakdown.

Farm For Sale

Having decided to locate elsewhere we offer for sale our farm containing 227 acres of Number 1 Bourbon county land. The farm is situated 2 1/2 miles east of North Middletown on the Mt. Sterling and North Middletown turnpike. Situated near good school, church and store, telephone in house. The farm is in a high state of cultivation, is well fenced, water in abundance for all purposes. Doubt if there is a farm in the precinct with as much good tobacco land. The farm can be subdivided into three tracts and we would sell either as a whole or in tracts.

Tract No. 1 contains 88 1/2 acres with comfortable dwelling of six rooms, stock barn and five acre tobacco barn and all other necessary out-buildings. Good pike frontage with 60 acres of tobacco land.

Tract No. 2 contains 84 1/4 acres fenced and cross fenced with tenant house and five acre tobacco barn, good pike frontage, all good tobacco, corn or grass land.

Tract No. 3 contains 53 3/4 acres of Number 1 land with comfortable dwelling on same in good condition. Stock barn, tobacco barn and all necessary outbuildings. A never failing supply of water. Well fenced and in first class shape.

This farm will be sold on good terms. For further particulars address J. W. and Lettie D. Rice, N. Middletown, Ky., R. R. No. 1 or phone 254R, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

"Satan Sanderson," in which Orrin Johnson, the Broadway star, plays the leading role and which is announced for appearance at the Tabb Theatre on Saturday, July the 10th, is the third release of the B. A. Rolfe Photoplay Company, and is another release of the newly formed Metro Pictures Corporation, and in point of interest and continuity of story promises to exceed anything heretofore made into pictures from a novel.

The story of "Satan Sanderson" is the story of a wayward son whose waywardness is inherited from a wayward father, who in the autumn of his life turned for the better. The taint is in the son and it takes true love and a faithful sweetheart to bring his manly traits to the surface. "Satan Sanderson" is in five parts and is composed of three hundred scenes. In addition to Orrin Johnson, the cast includes one of the screen's most beautiful actresses, Irene Warfield, who plays the part of the blind sweetheart with a broad understanding of the role.

POPULAR CANDIDATE MAKES FINE IMPRESSION

Mr. and Mrs. Rodman Keenon, of Harrodsburg, accompanied by Mrs. Smith Hansford, Mrs. Nannie Moore and Mr. Bacon Moore, all of Harrodsburg, motored to this city Monday. Mr. Keenon, who is a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, met many Mt. Sterling Democrats while here, and from some pleasant things we have heard since he left, we have reason to believe he has landed a goodly number of votes. He made an exceedingly favorable impression, and those who have known him longest say that he is not only a fine gentleman, but peculiarly fitted for the position to which he aspires. We predict that he will be a mighty hard man to beat.

Reis, superintendent of Mother's Day, led the meeting. Little Charles Thomas Heinrich, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Heinrich, was entered on the cradle roll and was dedicated to the W. C. T. U. with impressive ceremony. After a short talk by the president and a heartfelt prayer by Mrs. Reis, the white ribbon was tied on the youngster's arm. Mrs. Thos. Heinrich, who attended Flower Day Mission services at the reformatory at Frankfort, gave a report of her trip. Miss Sallie Eubank, who has just returned from a visit to the W. C. T. U. A COSTLY INDORSEMENT FOR MORROW

At a meeting of what is known as the German-American Alliance, Wednesday night, the Republican candidate, Mr. Morrow, was endorsed as the candidate of that association.

If any doubt before existed as to the forces that nominated the Republican ticket at Lexington, this endorsement removes that doubt.

The German-American Alliance was formed for the protection of the saloon and it has been used by the saloon politicians in all their contests to terrorize the men who dared question the right of the saloon to do as it pleased in America, regardless of the law.

When Governor Beckham and Mayor Bingham were enforcing the laws requiring the saloons to close on Sunday, the German-American met and declared personal liberty to be in danger, denounced all public officers who were more loyal to the law than to the saloon, and declared a boycott of the Evening Post because it upheld the Governor and the Mayor.

The endorsement of Morrow will not help him in the least; the liquor vote is his, and this alliance is controlled by the liquor trade.

But it should awaken attention throughout the State. It shows the liquor men have one ticket in the field, and to insure its success they will do all they can to nominate Mr. Stanley as the Democratic candidate.—Louisville Post.

BALLOT ARRANGEMENT

At the public drawing for places on the ballot, held at the office of the Secretary of State at Frankfort last week, the Judicial candidates in this district, came out of the hat and will appear on the ballots in August primary as follows: For Circuit Judge—Wm. M'CHESNEY DRAWING CROWDS

Hon. H. V. McChesney, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky, is speaking every day and sometimes twice a day in Eastern and Central Kentucky, and is being greeted with the most enthusiastic crowds everywhere.

It is a well known fact that almost every large daily newspaper circulating in Kentucky is dominated by the liquor interests and for this reason the general public is not able to keep posted on the progress of McChesney's campaign. They will not print facts about these meetings that show what a large following Mr. McChesney has. They want to keep the public in ignorance of the fact that he is leading all the candidates. Mr. McChesney will visit the Big Sandy Valley again soon, speaking in all the county seats, with the probable exception of Louisa, where he opened his campaign.—Big Sandy News.

If you are feeling peeved and out of sorts, take a brisk walk. You will feel better. If your brain is overburdened and your mind is sluggish, get in motion again, for your legs are good doctors. A brisk walk exercises the dormant muscles, stimulates the circulation of blood and brightens the mind. It is good for good people and better for the bad ones. It is all to the good.

No, the pot is not simmering in Mexico. The darned thing has melted.

Once upon a time a beggar, upon being asked why he did not go to work replied that he was afraid of work because work killed his wife. And there is food for a world of thought in the tail end of his statement. There are women in this world who know nothing but work, the hardest kind of grinding, nerve racking, death dealing and soul destroying toil. The man finishes his day's work and smokes his pipe in peace, but the wife toils on without ceasing, washing dishes, ironing, mending, slaving until ready to drop. And though but a few short years ago the husband solemnly promised to love, cherish and protect that wife, he now appears oblivious to the fact that her life blood is slowly ebbing away in toil too heavy for her frail strength. Fortunately such cases are not in the majority, but even a minority should not exist.

We are a firm believer in work and the fellow who works. This is a great country and it is so because we are a nation of workers. Work has made us what we are, and more work will make us even greater than we are. There is no end to the possibilities when everybody works.

AN EPITAPH

And when I told him I was true
He struggled to believe me."

CONSTANTINOPLE.

The Siege and Sacking of the Famous City by Mohammed II.

Mohammed II. moved to begin his great siege of Constantinople in February, 1453, but the ponderous character of his artillery made it impossible to get his weapons in place for three months longer, and the real siege began in April. It lasted fifty-three days, and Mohammed entered the city and extinguished the last remains of the Roman empire on May 29.

Cannon were still in the experimental stage, and there was a belief that the bigger the gun the more destructive it would be, so Mohammed had a cannon made, the diameter of whose mouth is said to have been two feet and a half. Stone balls were still in use in those days. Mohammed had 70,000 men, while the force of the Christians did not exceed 9,000. The Turkish fleet consisted of 320 vessels. The Christians were inadequately supplied with gunpowder, and every repulse they inflicted on the Turks brought nearer the day of their own downfall.

Battering rams, cannon and liquid fire were used constantly in the attack upon the half ruined forts of Constantinople, and at one time the Turks sent forward a wooden turret on rollers, which was destroyed by the Greeks and their allies. A Christian squadron of only five ships repulsed the Turks in a desperate naval engagement, though Mohammed himself, sitting on horseback on the beach, yelled reproaches at his sailors and even spurred his horse into the sea.

Mohammed conceived the desperate operation of carrying his ships overland from the Bosphorus into the higher part of the harbor. In one night the Turkish fleet climbed a hill and was launched, and the upper harbor was occupied. The Ottoman cannon demolished the Greek forts in forty days, and the final assault began in the morning of May 29. The Emperor Constantine fought to the last and died like a hero, and a pitiless sack of the city began the moment it fell, under the explicit permission and even order of Mohammed himself.

An invasion of Serbia began within a few days, and the Turk was placed firmly on his European throne.—New York Times.

Some Famous Doctors.

Morgagni, the founder of modern pathology, was an Italian. Auenbrugger, inventor of physical diagnosis, was an Austrian. Jenner, the discoverer of vaccination, and Lister, father of modern surgery, were Englishmen. Schwann, originator of the cell doctrine, and Koch, who isolated the bacillus of tuberculosis, are credited to Germany; O'Dwyer, inventor of intubation, and Wright, who worked out the theory of opsonins, which teaches how the blood fights disease, to Ireland. Pasteur, father of preventive medicine, who taught the world the causes of sickness and demonstrated that no one need die of parasitic diseases, was born in France.

Going From Dan.

Mark Twain's best friend in his Nevada days was another young journalist called Dan de Quille. One day Mark and he had been for a walk from Gold Hill down to Virginia City. All of a sudden Mark said "S'long," with a wave of his hand, and started to leave his friend.

"Where ye goin', Sam?" asked Dan.

"Waal," remarked Mark in his famous drawl, "I guess I'll take a run down to Beersheba. That's the correct place to go when you leave Dan."

Long Pedigrees.

A distinguished French seaman, Admiral Magon, who was killed at Trafalgar, showed a pedigree going back to Mago, the brother of Hannibal. The Samson family, who owns an estate near Lyons, boast of their descent from the strong man of the Bible, which is commemorated in their coat of arms by the broken column of a temple. An Italian nobleman, the Marchese Porro, traces his line back to Porus, the Indian monarch who fought a battle with Alexander the Great.

When Pins Were New.

A curious fact in the early history of pins is that when they were first sold in "open shop" there was such a great demand for them that a code was passed permitting their sale only on two days in the year—the 1st and 2d of January. Those days the court ladies and the city dames flocked to the depots to purchase them in such numbers that they were accounted festivals.

Sofa Talk.

"Would your mother be angry if I stole a kiss?" said the young man on the sofa.

"Why don't you look her up and try it?" said the sweet young thing coyly.—Yonkers Statesman.

The most successful shoppers in the world are inveterate readers of the advertisements in their local newspapers, and their successes are brought about mainly through the advance information gleaned from the advertisements. If a bargain is offered at a store that advertises they see it and rush forth to buy before it is gone and the price returns to normal again. In this way they supply most of their wants throughout the year, and often secure more goods for less cost than their neighbors who are neglectful of the opportunities heralded in the local press. The habit of devouring the ads is growing steadily upon the people, and the wise merchant knows this and prepares to meet it.

Do you know that it is impossible to contract malaria without first being bitten by a mosquito. It's a fact, for mosquitoes alone spread the malarial germ. The mosquito gets in its deadly work in the dark hours of night, when the weather is hot and the windows are open and the people are longing for a little fresh air. Hundreds of thousands of lives might be saved if more attention were paid to the screening of windows and doors, and especially is this the case where little children are growing up. The time for the mosquito is at hand—put up your screens and save your children.

What is Tuberculosis?

TUBERCULOSIS or consumption, known also as "phthisis," is a treacherous disease caused by the growth in the body of millions of little rod-shaped germs called "tubercle bacilli," because as they multiply they produce small lumps or "tubercles." The germs are really tiny plant-like parasites, so small that they must be magnified hundreds of times under a powerful microscope before one can see them at all.

Being a parasite, the germ of tuberculosis, like the mistletoe or fungus growth, must live by taking life from something else, and on this account it lives in the body of human beings or animals better than anywhere else, in the eye, the skin, the knee or the spine, and most frequently in the lungs, and the other organs of breathing.

Outside of the body, the germs of tuberculosis may be easily killed, if they are exposed to direct sunlight for a few hours. Moist heat at 145 degree F., boiling water, or strong alkaline soaps, washing soda and similar household cleansing solutions will also kill them. If undisturbed, the germs of tuberculosis may live outside of the body in warm, moist, dark places, such as corners of rooms and hallways, for months or even years.

Because of the careless habits of people who have consumption and others, the germs of the disease are everywhere. Every time a person who has the bacilli in his sputum spits on the floor, sidewalk or in any other exposed place, the germs by the billions may become dry, and when stirred up by a broom or current of air may be inhaled by the chance passer. A speck of dust, such as one sees in the sunlight, may be the resting place of hundreds of these tiny germs. On this account nearly everybody at some time or other breathes in the living germs of tuberculosis.

Why then doesn't everyone die of tuberculosis? Because the germs of tuberculosis in the body cannot grow, unless they find certain tissues that are weak, flabby, or, as it is better called, "non-resistant." Everyone has a certain normal resistance to tuberculosis. If this resistance is lowered for any reason, the germs, which are almost always present in the body, will quickly find some tissue on which they can grow, and thus the disease is started. It takes more than the presence of the germ in the body to cause tuberculosis. It needs also a lowered vitality that will give the germ a chance to grow. It is like the seed and the soil. The scaly parasite that ruins a rosebush frequently comes from a poorly nourished soil. The tubercle bacillus is the seed; the body is the soil. If the soil is allowed to lose its normal and natural fertility, the seed will produce disease. If the soil is kept up to its full strength, this parasite seed cannot grow, and no tuberculosis will develop.

Once the germs begin to grow in the body, they produce injury to it in two ways:

(1) They destroy tissues. The destruction in the lung, for example, may amount to a very small spot, or it may be a large cavity, and not infrequently an entire lung. The sooner the disease is discovered, the smaller will be the amount of tissue destroyed, as a general rule.

(2) The growing germ, while it destroys the body tissues upon which it lives, also produces certain poisons or toxins, which, in turn, cause most of the symptoms of the disease. Thus, while the germs may be active in the lungs, the poison which they throw off goes through the entire system.

The commonest early symptoms of consumption are: (1) Persistent cough or cold lasting a month or longer; (2) Loss of weight and appetite; (3) Run down feeling; (4) Afternoon temperature; (5) Night sweats; and (6) Spitting of blood or streaks of blood in sputum.

The presence of any of these symptoms should lead one to consult a physician at once. Tuberculosis can be cured if it is discovered in time. It costs little to be examined and cured. It is very expensive to delay and die.

COMING ATTRACTIONS AT PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Blanche Sweet in "The Warrens of Virginia" at the Paramount Theatre Monday, July 12th.

Mary Pickford in "Behind the Scenes" at The Paramount Theatre Saturday, July 10th.

Robert Warwick and Barbara Tennant in "The Dollar Mark" at the Paramount Theatre Tuesday, July 13th.

WILL ADDRESS THE PEOPLE

Supt. Cassidy and Rev. Geo. A. Joplin to Speak in Behalf of Moonlight Schools.

Supt. M. A. Cassidy, of Lexington City Schools, and Rev. Geo. A. Joplin, Secretary Kentucky Sunday School Association will address the teachers and citizens of Mt. Sterling and Montgomery county on Thursday afternoon, at the Courthouse in the cause of removing the stigma of illiteracy from Kentucky.

One hundred and twenty great speakers will preach this gospel in the various counties of the State this year. The Kentucky Illiteracy Commission has been good to Montgomery county in sending two of the best speakers of the whole list to address the people there.

Supt. M. A. Cassidy has been city superintendent of Lexington for sixteen years. He was Supt. of Fayette County Schools eight years. He was President of the Southern Educational Association which met in Houston, Texas, in 1911, and made of that meeting a success unequalled in the history of its organization. Supt. Cassidy is one of the ablest and most progressive of Kentucky's educators. He was the first superintendent in the South to put the Montessori method into practice. He originated the "Grocery store" in the city schools, a method of teaching arithmetic and other branches, by buying and selling groceries in the schoolroom. He has under his supervision a school which has a swimming pool, laundry, showerbaths and other modern conveniences which are rare in schools of the South. Supt. Cassidy is a gifted speaker, and interwoven with eloquence he introduces selections from Paul Lawrence Dunbar, which delights his audience.

Rev. Geo. A. Joplin is a master on the platform as well as a Sunday School Executive. Mr. Joplin and his associates have won for Kentucky leadership in Sunday School methods such as "Home Departments," "Go-to-Sunday-School Day" and other plans. Mr. Joplin is too well known in Mt. Sterling to need an eulogy. Sunday School workers and others know of his matchless ability as a speaker, and all over the South he is noted as a gifted and princely orator.

These two great Kentucky men have volunteered to give their time and to pay their own expenses to Mt. Sterling, one from Lexington, and the other from Louisville to address the people. Every man, woman and child in Mt. Sterling should show their appreciation by going to hear them. 1:30 is the hour—Thursday afternoon. In the name and her redemption from the shame and blight of illiteracy let every patriot close his doors from 1:30 to 3:00 p. m. to hear these speakers.

"The Dollar Mark." Robert Warwick and Barbara Tennant, with an all star cast of William A. Brady players, will be seen in the sensational photo-drama "THE DOLLAR MARK," which will be the attraction at the Paramount Theatre, Tuesday, July 13th.

In "THE DOLLAR MARK," Mr. Warwick makes his first appearance before the camera, but his long experience on the legitimate stage has fully prepared him for the exacting duties of the film artist with the result that his interpretation of Jim Gresham, is said to be one of the finest portrayals that has ever been given to any motion picture production.

Mr. Warwick will later be seen at the Paramount Theatre in the massive production, "THE MAN OF THE HOUR."

It sometimes happens that the reason a fellow can't deliver the goods is because he is caught with the goods on him.

If General Huerta is really pining for his old time sulphuric activity he might swap jobs with the devil. Thanks, like banks, pay golden interest.

A THOROUGH TEST

One to Convince the Most Skeptical Mount Sterling Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical.

Mount Sterling residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

S. T. Greene, 62 Holt avenue, Mt. Sterling, says: "I had a great deal of trouble with my kidneys. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, especially at night, but the flow was scanty. The secretions also contained sediment. My back ached and I had pains through my sides. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a box at Duerson's Drug Store and used them. They brought the best of results."

OVER EIGHT YEARS LATER, Mr. Greene said: "Doan's Kidney Pills always did me so much good that I am glad to speak in their praise every time I can."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Greene had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE GREAT (?) STANLEY

The Frankfort Courier, in a three-column adulation and adoration of Owsley Stanley says some things that are perfectly ridiculous. For instance:

"In the North Stanley would have been one of three things: a remarkable criminal lawyer, an author of distinction, or a United States Senator."

Mr. Stanley recently had an opportunity to show whether he is a "great criminal lawyer" or not, during his connection with the cases against the Indiana election thieves, but it is a fact that Mr. Stanley made a sorry spectacle in these cases, and proved a great disappointment to his friends. The truth is Mr. Stanley was distinctly outclassed when he got into those cases, and the people had an opportunity to find out what a tremendous fraud he is. The people of Indianapolis had heard so much about the "great Stanley" that they were surprised beyond measure at the poor showing he made.—Midway Bluegrass Clipper.

LEND THE HELPING HAND

Every citizen of this community should stand loyally by and lend a helping hand to our public schools, for education is one of the strongest bulwarks of our modern civilization.

Instead of criticising, and knocking, and disrupting this social and commercial necessity, let us exert our individual efforts to its advancement and expansion.

The public school is one of our greatest constructive agencies, and without its aid and assistance in creating and cultivating the intellect of our young people this community would soon be sinking to the ancient plane of ignorance and superstition.

There is nothing to be gained by jeopardizing the work and influence of our public school system, but there is everything to gain by fostering and encouraging and extending it a helping hand.

Education is a vital necessity of the day, and its effects are felt in every walk of life. Without it a young man enters upon the serious problems of life handicapped in a thousand ways.

We of the community are personally interested in the welfare of the community, and there is no way in which we can better serve our individual and collective interests than by standing loyally behind our public schools.

They need our good will and encouragement—not only need them, but should have them.

WAR PRICES

New York papers direct attention to the sensational advances that have taken place in drugs and chemicals owing to the war. The upheaval in production has affected every drug and medicinal agent known to modern science, and advances ranging from 10 to more than 1,800 per cent. of normal has resulted. As a result the United States is left dependent upon its own resources. Coal tar medicines and medicines for which America has depended upon Germany have advanced from 500 to 1,800 per cent. New York newspaper writers point out that the demand for supplies for ammunition and hospital uses have cut the stock to a minimum and American dealers are up in the air. This country is at peace with the world, but its people are compelled to pay war prices just the same. There is no way out of it.

GOOD AND NOT SO GOOD

JUDGE MULLIGAN DIED AT LEXINGTON HOME

Judge James Mulligan died at his home in Lexington Tuesday, July 1st.

James Hilary Mulligan, poet, author, legislator, diplomat, and Kentucky gentleman of the fast vanishing school, was born in Lexington, November 21, 1844.

Judge Mulligan combined law with journalism. For years he represented the Cincinnati Enquirer, the Cincinnati Gazette, Louisville Democrat and several eastern papers. In 1867 and 1868 he was associated with Col. C. P. Breckinridge in the conduct of the old Lexington Observer and Reporter. Col. Breckinridge was editor and Judge Mulligan city editor of that paper.

Following is Judge Mulligan's famous poem:

In Kentucky.
The streams dance on the gladdest,
The moonlight falls the softest,
In Kentucky;
The summer days come ofttest,
In Kentucky;
Friendship is the strongest,
Love's light glows the longest,
Yet, wrong is always wrongest,
In Kentucky.
Life's burdens bear the lightest,
In Kentucky;
The home fires burn the brightest,
In Kentucky;
While players are the keenest,
Cards come out the meanest,
The pocket empties cleanest,
In Kentucky.
The sun shines ever brightest,
In Kentucky;
The breezes whisper lightest,
In Kentucky;
Plain girls are the fewest,
Their little hearts are truest,
Maiden's eyes the bluest,
In Kentucky.
Orators are the grandest,
In Kentucky;
Officials are the blandest,
In Kentucky;
Boys are the fiercest,
Danger ever nighest,
Taxes are the highest,
In Kentucky.

The bluegrass waves the bluest,
In Kentucky;
Yet, blueblooms are the fewest (?)
In Kentucky;
Moonshine is the clearest,
By no means the dearest,
And, yet, it acts the queerest,
In Kentucky.
The dove-notes are the saddest,
In Kentucky;
The streams dance on the gladdest,
In Kentucky;
Hip pockets are the thickest,
Pistol hands the slickest,
The cylinder turns quickest,
In Kentucky.
The song birds are the sweetest,
In Kentucky;
The thoroughbreds are fleetest,
In Kentucky;
Mountains tower proudest,
Thunder peals the loudest,
The landscape is the grandest—
And politics—the damndest,
In Kentucky.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF KENTUCKY

JAMES P. EDWARDS.

In submitting my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the office of Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, to be voted for in the primary to be held on August 7, 1915, I ask the support and influence of Democratic voters of our party. I believe the principles enunciated in the Democratic national platform of 1912 and in the Kentucky Democratic platform of 1914 to be the supreme law of the party, as expressions of the will of the majority until changed by the party in convention assembled. I believe that the only just government derives its policy from the consent of the governed. That public officials are servants, not masters, of the people. I believe in the greatest degree of individual liberty that is consistent with the welfare of society. I heartily indorse the revision of the tariff downwards—in fact, all the acts of the National Administration and especially the course of that greatest of living Democrats—the Hon. Woodrow Wilson—in dealing with the European situation and in his efforts to insure our national peace at all costs save the expense of our national honor and believe it the duty of every good citizen to uphold his hands in the present crisis, regardless of party affiliation. I heartily commend the present administration in Kentucky for its efforts to redeem and in redeeming the pledges made to the people in the Democratic platform of 1911, in the enactment of a direct primary law to insure fair elections in Kentucky and that any man might submit his claims for office to the voters. I am in favor of the extension and betterment of the schools of Kentucky so that the children of people in all walks of life may receive that degree of education that will put them on an equal footing with the children and youth of that State now affording the best educational advantages in the battle of life. I approve of the women of Kentucky, whose hearts this subject is especially dear, voting in all school elections. I favor laws to destroy all corrupt lobbying in Kentucky. I favor removing the prisons of Kentucky from political and for humane laws governing prisoners, looking to their reform, and in accordance with the advance thought of the day on this subject. I am for an economic administration of the government, the abolition of useless offices and that same degree of care in the expenditure of the people's money as is exercised in private life; for the liquidation of the State debt and believe that a State, like an individual, should live within its income. I favor the constitutional amendment for a change in the method of taxation in Kentucky to the end that all property shall bear its just proportion of taxation, and that capital may be invited to the State to help develop our wonderful natural resources and be assured of a square deal; that it may know from laws in advance just what it may expect and that it will not have to get into politics to avoid being taxed to death; also that it can not expect by political influence to avoid its just burden of the expenditure necessary to operate the government. I favor the enactment of laws permitting co-operation among farmers and among all classes of labor sufficient to procure fair markets for their products and to prevent the encroachment of monopoly on their rights. I am in full accord with the spirit of road building and improvement that is abroad in our State. Roads are the arteries of commerce. Good roads bring markets to producers, assist in disposing of products, stimulate neighborhood interest, invite travel and are of the greatest aid in the development of our State. I believe with Woodrow Wilson, and as stated in the 1911 Kentucky Democratic platform, that "temperance is essentially a moral, non-political and social question, and should not be made a partisan issue between political parties," and I approve the passage of the county unit law in compliance with the platform pledge of 1911.

I am unalterably opposed to State-wide prohibition as undemocratic, unfair to an industry which, by the invitation of our laws, has so much money invested in this business in Kentucky and which pays such a large proportion of the taxes of our State. I am not in favor of reducing our State to the pitiable condition of bankruptcy that exists in West Virginia and Tennessee today by driving this large source of revenue from the State. I do not believe that any general demand or sentiment exists in Kentucky for State-wide prohibition, but that this question has been forced on the voters by a few politicians in direct defiance of the mandates of the 1911 platform, hoping thereby to ride into office and control of the State. I am in favor of each locality governing its own affairs on this and every other question, and I think this to be true Democracy. The fact that 106 out of 120 counties in Kentucky are dry shows that the people of the law is ample and those counties opposed to the sale of liquor can stop its sale. There are laws against the illegal sale of liquor as there are laws against crimes of violence, and I believe that each county should punish and control its bootleggers as it punishes its other criminals. The enforcement of the law in any community keeps pace with public opinion. I believe the people of Kentucky are tired of the liquor question, and if elected, so far as in my power lies, they shall not hear of it for four years.

I believe we have had too much bitter politics, too much personal politics, too many useless laws, too much factionalism and too little real work for the upbuilding of Kentucky. Not that I believe that laws can supplant individual effort, or that we can by legislation make a "promised land." Laws can not create wealth; it must come through individual effort; but let us in Kentucky make all men truly equal before the law, and assure each man a fair chance that he may enjoy the reward of industry, and let us have equal and exact justice to all and exclude no one from the privilege of voting.

I was a candidate for this nomination in 1911, and defeated according to the official count by a plurality of 1,562 votes. I hope to win this time, and hope that the Democrats of Kentucky will receive kindly this second thrusting of myself upon the political stage. I have no axes to grind, no scores to settle, and I do not wish to pay except the cost of gratitude for the support I received before. I was born in Kentucky, my ancestry came through the Cumberland Gap from Virginia in 1737 and settled in Nelson county. We have lived upon Kentucky soil ever since. Every sentiment and tie of my ancestors and myself is in Kentucky. I love and honor her history. Every hope for the future of my children is linked to Kentucky and its future. I was educated in the common schools and graduated at Centre College. I have practiced law in Jefferson county and for a while in Caldwell county since my majority. I have served two terms in the Kentucky Legislature. What ability I have to fill this office I leave for those who know me to say. That I will do my full duty as I see without fear or favor and with due regard to what I have here in said, I affirm.

I appeal to you for your vote and help and influence. If you will favor me with this nomination I shall use my utmost endeavor to win it with your other nominees a successful fight. November. Whatever shall be your decision I shall, as I have always done in the past, support at the polls and on the stump the nominees of our party; I believe in majority rule and shall abide by it. The Democratic National Administration is entitled to a vote of confidence in Kentucky, and of right ought to be, a Democratic State. After we have selected our nominees we will get together and pile up an old time Democratic majority in November.

Thanking you for your consideration of this announcement and respectfully soliciting your support, I am your obedient servant, JAS. P. EDWARDS.

FINANCIER SHOT BY ASSASSIN SATURDAY

Mr. J. Piermont Morgan, the financier, was shot twice Saturday at his home at Glen Cove, N. Y. Both bullets entered in the region of his right hip but attending physicians say that neither wound will prove fatal. Frank Holt, an American of German descent is the man who attempted the assassination. Holt also confessed that he is responsible for the explosion in the Capitol building that caused such a sensation last week. It is thought that Holt is insane from worrying over the European war. Holt was a teacher of languages in Cornell University.

WINS BIG RACE

Blackie Daw, the crack two-year-old colt owned by Mr. Jess Spencer, of Winchester, won the Cincinnati Trophy Saturday from a good field. The race was worth nearly six thousand dollars to the winner. Mr. Spencer is known to many of our people who will be glad to learn of his good luck.
